JAPAN EARTHQUAKE REFUGEES COMING TO SHANGHAI

Japan's Banks And Commerce After Quake

THE disaster that has overwhelmed the capital of Japan and the great shipping port of Yokohama bids fair to throw into chaos the whole financial and banking fabric of Japan. Great fears are already entertained as to how the numerous Japanese banks are going to weather the crisis. Certain fundamental facts in connection with the catastrophe must be borne in mind in order to arrive at anything like a reasonable estimate. It is reasonable to surmise that documents and money are safe in the vaults of some of the demolished banking institutions. For instance, the Mitzui Bishi Bank in Shanghai has advices that although its Tokio office had been destroyed the vault is intact.

The disturbance took place about noon on Saturday, at a time when the banks must have been very busy, so that little opportunity was afforded in most cases to get the valuable deeds, documents and papers and money into the vaults. It is, therefore, to be feared that the banks in general are facing a dead loss of appalling proportions.

Speculation is rife as to how much specie and bank notes have been destroyed by the fire. The bank note circulation in Tokio is about 50 million yen daily and it can be taken for granted that at least this amount of notes has gone into smoke. The return of the clearing house banks of Tokio for the last week of August, and just prior to the fire calamity testifies to the adverse condition of the credit market of Tokio. It notes a great shrinkage in deposits, accompanied by a decline in cash reserve. In spite of all this, it would be seen that a colossal amount of cash was out. The return is summarised.

Week ending Aug. 25	Yen
Deposits	1,831,117,000
Loans	2,188,105,000
Cash Reserve	110,198,000

The commercial value of Tokio can be guaged by the number of bills that are cleared weekly. The week prior to the destruction the bills cleared totalled 149,399 against 131,195 for the same week last year, and the value of these bills was yen 710,208,050 against Yen 552,541,859 for the same week last year, the increase amounting to yen 157,667,191. The human mind cannot comprehend the destruction wrought to the commercial life of the country. It will be many years before the banks can be able to transact business on this scale.

The question turns into an inquiry as to what the Japanese banks may do under the circumstances to save themselves and revive the industries that have been dealt death blows. It is doubtful, unless the advices so far received are extremely exaggerated, if they can carry on efficiently their tasks as individual units. The losses to the banks must be colossal, and it is suggested that the only method of meeting the situation will be an amalgamation of the resources of all the principal banks in Japan. It is quite likely and it is even hinted that the Bank of Chosen, the Yokohama Specie Bank, the Mitsui Bishi Bank, the Bank of Taiwan and the Sumitomo Bank will likely amalgamate. By so doing they would strengthen their position and be able to render greater assistance in the work of reconstruction. It may be a practically hopeless task to try to recover the amounts owing to the banks by the Tokio and Yokohama commercial houses and others, and the prime duty of these banking institutions would seem to be to advance money to those who have lost their businesses and so get them on their feet; by this means they would stand a chance of recovering eventually a portion of the money that at present must be considered irrecoverable.

Again, it is doubtful if the banks themselves can do much without Government assistance. It is not improbable that the National Treasury will hand over surplus funds and in a way support the banks so that they may be able to "carry on." This would seem to be a wise policy for the Japanese authorities to adopt if the work of reconstruction is to be allowed to proceed as quickly and effectively as it is desired. The situation is unparalelled in the history of Japan. It is fortunate for the country that Osaka, Nagoya and other industrial centers have not been touched. The loss of Yokohama is serious, as it was the principal exporting center of Japan, where stupendous stocks used to be stored for export to the markets of the world. All that eminence has gone, and today it is a pile of debris facing a ruined harbor.

The net effect of all this sad news on the Shanghai money market has been to make yen quoted at no price; in other words, the rate is nominal with banks fearing to make a quotation until some further definite news of the extent and nature of

Yokohama Dead Include Many Well Known Here; Shanghai People Safe

Local Man's Sister-in-law Killed—Still No News Of Many—Prentices, Parkhills, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Read Are Safe

The first list of foreigners reported killed in Yokohama was received in Shanghai yesterday when 27 residents or visitors in Yokohama were reported to have been killed either by being crushed to death from falling buildings during the earthquake, or in the destructive fire that razed the city following the terrific shocks.

Many of those reported dead are well known in Shanghai and one, Mrs. George Komor, is the sister-in-law of Mr. Paul Komor of Huber and Co., living at 27 Temple Lane. Reuter's carried her name as "Miss Komor" but as the George Komors are the only family of that name in Yokohama and Mr. Komor has already cabled that he is safe at Kobe but that his wife is missing there remains little doubt as to her identity.

Mr. Komor is a partner in Kuhn and Komor, curio dealers at 37 Yamashita-cho. He met Mrs. Komor, who was Miss Vera Orloff of Vladivostok, in Yokohama two years ago. They visited in Shanghai in January. She was 24 years old.

Mr. Max D. Kirassoff, Acting American Consul-General, has been in charge of the Consulate since the death of Consul-General Seidmore. Mrs. Kirassoff was also killed, but no news of their children has been received.

FAMILY KILLED

Mr. E. G. Babbitt, the Assistant Commercial Attache, his wife and two daughters were also killed. Mr. Babbitt, Mrs. Babbitt, who was an invalid, and his two daughters, Misses Doris and Jocelyn, 20 and 22 years of age, arrived in Yokohama only two days before the terrible catastrophe on the President Lincoln from San Francisco. Mr. Babbitt had been the San Francisco representative of the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce there for the last nine years.

Mr. Paul E. Jenks, American Vice-Consul, who was killed, has been at the Consulate for a number of years and is well known to many Shanghai people because he has performed most of the marriages at the Consulate, including those of Shanghai men or women who met their fiances in Yokohama.

The Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China received a cable yesterday afternoon announcing the death of Mr. A. H. Tait, the manager of the Yokohama bank, and Mrs. H. R. Nicoll, wife of the bank's accountant, and her child. Mrs. Nicoll and the child were reported killed outright at their home, 110A, The Bluff.

Reuter's brought the news that Mr. A. D. Macdougall, sub-accountant of the Chartered Bank, had also been killed. The Chartered Bank here has received news that other members of their staff are safe.

MOLLISONS DEAD

The Mollisons, who are reported dead, are well known in Shanghai. No information has been received as to whether it is Mr. and Mrs. James Pender Mollison, managing director of Mollison and Co., who lived at 2063 Negishi, or Mr. and Mrs. John P. Duff Mollison, who live at Pinewood, Kamakura. The Mollisons were among the oldest foreign residents in Yokohama, and had many close friends here.

Dr. Edwin Wheeler, in charge of the Yokohama General Hospital, who is reported dead, was probably the oldest foreign resident in Yokohama. He first came to Japan sometime in the 1860's as a British navy doctor, remained, and has practiced there ever since. He was very well known by many Shanghai residents and officiated at the birth of at least one Shanghai resident —Mr. H. Y. Irwine of Brunner, Mond. Mr. Irwine, who was informed of Dr. Wheeler's death, was keenly hurt by the news.

M. Paul Dejardin, the French Consul-General, is reported dead, but no news has been received of Mme. Dejardin, who lived at 186, The Bluff.

Mr. G. H. Stitt, manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, has received word that Mr. I. C. Morrison of the Yokohama office, was killed, and that Mr. R. C. Edwards, the sub-manager, had been injured. Mr. R. T. Wright,

NEW DEFI TO LEAGUE GIVEN BY MUSSOLINI

"Hands Off Or We'll Quit," Is Stand Taken By Italian Premier

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Sept. 4.—At a Cabinet meeting today Signor Mussolini declared that it was absolutely inadmissible for the League of Nations to undertake the settlement of the Italo-Greek dispute. The Italian delegation at tomorrow's meeting of the Council of the League would maintain that the League was absolutely incompetent to judge the question which was cutside the clauses involved by Greece. Should the Council nevertheless assert its competency, Italy would solve the problem by withdrawing from the League.

Referring to the foreign comments, the Premier remarked: "Italian pubic opinion is without doubt profoundly surprised and grieved at the attitude of such a large section of the British press. I hope that this burning lesson of political realism will decisively cure Italy of the malady of conventional phrases."

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 4.—The Council of the League of Nations has adjourned its further examination of the Italo-Greek conflict until tomorrow at the request of Signor Salandra (Italy), pending the return of Signor Giurati, who is expected today from Rome with fresh instructions.

Signor Salandra made a statement contending that the Military Governor of Corfu was responsible for the deaths of the innocent victims because the casualties occurred within the fortress where troops were reported to be billeted, and the Governor had declared that he would desist the landing of force and had been warned that fire would be directed on military objectives.

Lord Robert Cecil's insitence on the Greek delegate, M. Politis, being heard lead to Italian protests. M. Politis was finally allowed to submit written proposals, namely, that the Council should appoint one or more neutral representatives to superintend a judicial inquiry and trial of the accused and to assist the Commission of Inquiry; and that the Council should also instruct a Commission, composed of one Greek, one Italian and one neutral judicial authority, to meet as soon as possible at Geneva with the object of deciding the indemnities to be paid to the families of the victims, the Greek government depositing forthwith in a Swiss bank 50,000,000 Italian Lire as a guarantee for immediate payment of whatever indemnities may be fixed.

The feeling in the League circles is much easier in consequence of M. Politis's proposals.

LOCAL UNITS WILL BE SENT TO AID JAPAN QUAKE VICTIMS

American Bodies Despatching Doctors And Nurses

REFUGEES COMING

Prepare For Reception Of Several Hundred Here

Arrangements for the sending of doctors and nurses from Shanghai to Yokohama and Tokio and preparations for the reception here this week-end of several hundred refugees from the earthquake district kept local organisations busy yesterday.

As a result of action taken yesterday the American Red Cross Society, American Association and American Chamber of Commerce will send off the first relief unit, consisting of four doctors and twelve nurses, tomorrow, together with medical supplies and foodstuffs. On Saturday a second unit will be despatched, backed by local Chinese organisations.

REFUGEES EXPECTED

As regards the arrival of refugees here, it is believed that three, and possibly four, ships will come into port during the week-end "with contingents of both Japanese and foreign victims of the cataclysm. The American Woman's Club, British Women's Association and other organisations have issued appeals to local residents for quarters for the refugees and other preparations for their reception are being made.

From advices received here it is believed that refugees will arrive by the Empress of Canada—which reached Kobe yesterday with 1,500 aboard—on Saturday, and by the French Mail liner Andre Lebon, by a Toyo Kisen Kaisha ship and possibly by a P. and O. ship. The Andre Lebon is understood to have taken 500 refugees from Yokohama. About 350 refugees brought from Yokohama by the Admiral Line steamer President Jefferson, reached Kobe yesterday and of these it is believed many will be taken to the United States by the Jefferson, which is sailing from Kobe first to Seattle.

RED CROSS ACTS

The cry from Japan for physicians and nurses to care for the suffering brought immediate action by the American Red Cross Central Committee. A meeting was called by Major Arthur Basset, the chairman, and arrangements for sending off an expeditionary force were thoroughly discussed.

It was decided that four doctors and twelve nurses should be sent and a special sub-committee to take care of the arrangements was named, consisting of Dr. Thomas R. Dunn, Dr. J. C. McCracken and Dr. J. B. Fearn.

Mr. Paul Page Whitham and Mr. Carl Crow were appointed to a purchasing committee for the American Red Cross to secure foodstuffs and medical and other supplies to be forwarded to Japan and are now making a survey of the situation here, approaching the various importers, who have practically all agreed to place their stocks at the disposal of the committee for purchase.

Tentative reservations have been made for the unit to sail by the Nikko Maru tomorrow, but it is possible that they may go by the Shinyo Maru or by the specially despatched China Merchants' vessel, the Hsin Ming, if that ship sails tomorrow instead of today.

A meeting of the Red Cross Committee will be held at the Union Club today to select the doctors and nurses. Many have already volunteered.

GUARANTEE EXPENSES

Later in the day yesterday the committees of the American As-

The Association and Chamber have opened a subscription for funds, which received a splendid start yesterday with the contribution of Tls. 5,000 by the Scottish Rites Bodies here. Nations Banded In War On Crime

(Reuter's Service)

Vienna, Sept. 5.—Crossing frontiers will not offer a criminal the old-time sanctuary if the nations ratify the resolutions passed by the International Police Congress at which most countries, including America, are represented. The resolutions aim at the speeding up of international co-operation for the apprehension of criminals, the establishment of a central police organisation with centers in all countries and the institution of international co-operation between the police without the necessity of using diplomatic channels.

JAPAN'S LOSSES COMPARABLE TO HAVOC OF WAR

Nation Gravely Weakened By Gigantic Disaster, Says Manchester Guardian

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 4.—The Manchester Guardian, in an editorial article, thinks that the devastations in Japan, if not overstated, compare with the war devastations in France.

"It seems possible that she has experienced losses of every kind still heavier than those of the Russian War and without any corresponding enfeeblement of any country she might be disposed to regard as a formidable neighbor. It looks as if all over and round the Pacific a consciousness of somewhat changed proportions of national strength might soon have to be felt, and with it would come some perceptible modifications of existing policies.

"Now is the time for human sympathy. All decent men and women in all countries should resolve that if Japan has indeed been gravely weakened, and perhaps temporarily disabled for self-assertion or even self-protection, no diplomatic advantage whatever shall be taken of her misfortune."

The paper urges that Japan should be treated during any period of her infirmity just as handsomely as if she were in the prime of her strength.

Paul Page Whitham will talk to the Rotary Club this noon, on the subject of "Transportation in China." The matter will be treated from the standpoint Transportation as the Basis of Business Expansion in China. This will be an open meeting of the Rotary Club, and will be held in the ball room of the Astor House.

FUJI IS NOT TO BLAME, DECLARES NOTED SCIENTIST

Volcano Had No Connection With Earthquake Shock, Observer Says

(Exclusive China Press)

Manila, Sept. 5.—Officials at the Manila observatory today announced that the first earthquake shock on Saturday was recorded at 11:04 o'clock in the morning, the principal disturbance lasting 26 minutes and the total disturbance five hours.

The most violent shock occurred at 11:54 a.m. A violent shock also occurred at 11:52 a.m. Sunday.

Father Maso, the noted siesmographic expert at the observatory here declares that "the suggestion that Fuji can be the cause or center of this disturbance may be rejected."

"Our records show a very deep geological disturbance," Father Maso continued. "The distance of the origin of the earthquake from Manila, carefully calculated today, places it south of Yokohama and close to the coast, probably on the line recently pointed out by Professor Omora as the site of one of the earth's most dangerous fractures.

"The present catastrophe is comparable to that at Tokio in 1855 and at Fuji in 1891. Neither had such extension and such leaping energy. Though both had their origin near Fuji, the volcano had no connection with them. Volcanic quakes are never so severe. Moreover, Fuji is a hundred kilometers from Tokio."

High Prices Will Check Consumption Of Tea, Is View

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 4.—Dealing with the increased imports into Britain of China tea, which during the three months ending Aug. 31 were double those during the corresponding period of last year, the "Daily Telegraph" City Editor warns his readers that the closest scrutiny should be made before buying tea shares for investment.

He says that, while abnormal prices for tea will probably be maintained during the present season, there are indications that the high retail prices will considerably check consumption.

He expresses the opinion that China is at present able, notwithstanding the preferential tariff, to supply many million pounds of good tea at lower prices than the Indian and Ceylon plantations and considers that Indian and Ceylon tea companies' shares at present yielding 10 percent would only return from 2 to 3 percent upon a return to normal markets.

the loss reaches us. It is difficult to conceive what other effect it could have, as the deposits at the Japanese banks in Shanghai are drawn principally from the Japanese who for patriotic reasons would not make a run on these banks.

In contradistinction to the other banks engaged in China trade the Japanese banking institutions have no note issues on the market in Shanghai or other parts of China. The virulent boycott of 1919 caused the Yokohama Specie Bank and the Bank of Taiwan to withdraw their note circulation. The Chinese at that time had all these notes cashed by the banks issuing same and since then these banks have never desired to put any bank note issue on the Chinese market. Hence as far as China is concerned, the receipt of such ominous news cannot cause the Japanese banks the discomfort of a heavy run. Even were such a run to eventuate which is extremely improbable, the Japanese banks in China it is felt could withstand it.

Just before the great destruction there had been an efflux of capital from Tokio into provincial parts. This with the frequent issues of debentures since the beginning of August and absorption of money by semi-official banks accelerated the tieing up of capital in Tokio. The resources of bankers throughout Japan are generally weakened, the balance of trade at Yokohama and other ports being adverse.

The trade outlook at the present for Japan is certainly very dark indeed. A few days before the earthquake the Imperial Bank of Japan declared a dividend and the Chairman announced at the meeting that a similar dividend of six percent would be paid in future. This is certainly unlikely now.

Terrible Wound
from Abdomen to Hip

Our portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 97, Brettell Lane, Stourbridge, England, who writes:

"For 8 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors' and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length I was persuaded to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed, and I now have no pain. In a further recent letter Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint and consider my case a very satisfactory cure."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Fresh'ers, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Scotty Gets A Tie With The Millers And Silver Loving Cup From Fans

Popular Pitcher Turns In Fine Game, Holding Islanders To Three Hits; Harry Kingman Lambasts A Homer

By Westa

Jawn Scott, the human ice wagon, pitched his last game of the present season yesterday. Scotty is sailing for America on the fourteenth and as no more ball games are scheduled before that date yesterday's party was in the nature of a send-off for the pitcher. Quite a number of customers turned out, all in their best bibs and tuckers, and after it was all over a silver loving cup was presented to Scotty, following which Scotty delivered a carefully prepared and neatly turned speech, as follows:

"I thank you."

As to the ball game, Scotty's last effort of the year was magnificent. The game only went seven innings, but in five of those innings only three Millers faced Scotty, and in one other only four men were called to the plate. That accounts for all but one inning, and in that, sad to relate, the visitors clumb Scotty's frame for three solid whacks, one of them a two bagger, which they cashed for a total of two runs.

Those two runs gave them a tie, the Gallopers having scored two in their first time at bat on a single by Posnecki and a beautiful four base wallop to the Parsee club by Harry Kingman. A tie game with those birds is not so, worse, but since it was Scotty's last appearance, and also the last appearance of the Millers, everybody was pulling for a win.

SCOTTY HESITATES

It was a good, fast game—that is, as fast as any game can be with Scotty pitching. Everybody was hoping that since it was Scotty's last game he would turn on a little steam so as to get in a full nine innings, but there was nothing doing on the steam stuff. When Scotty is out there pitching he operates on exactly the same old time honored principle that actuates a hen when she is hatching a setting of eggs, namely, that it takes a certain specified time to do the job and that you can't produce the chickens any sooner by hurrying. Of course it would be difficult for a hen to hurry the hatching anyway, even if she were so minded, seeing that all good union hens put in twenty-four hours a day when they are on the hatching assignment.

Well, to get back to that loving cup, the presentation speech was made by Dinny Doyle, who had a neatly typewritten address in his inside coat pocket, all ready to read. He would have read it, as planned, except that somebody tipped Scotty as to what was coming. Being somewhat proud of his own oratorical ability Scotty was afraid that if Dinny ever got started to talking there wouldn't be a chance for him, so he evolved a neat bit of strategy, which was: to delay the game a little longer than usual so that when it came time for Dinny to read his speech it would be too dark.

DINNY SQUELCHED

And that's the way it worked out. Dinny fonched up and down, trying desperately as the twilight thickened to remember what he had written, but to save him he couldn't remember a word, so there he was, like a man shipwrecked on a desert island with a spike tailed coat and no party to wear it to. Dinny tried desperately to deliver an impromptu speech, but all he could recall about Scotty was the fact that at some remote period in the past Scotty had come to China on a boat, the telling of which enlightened the customers tremendously, since many of them had been harboring the delusion that Scotty had swum across.

Well to get back to the ball game, everything went along swimmingly for the Gallopers until the sixth session. In our first time at bat, after Thatch died on a fly to Montalbo, and Bills had whiffed, Posnecki singled. And then along came the skipper himself, in person, and whammed one into the distant rhubarbs for a home run. That gave us two big markers that loomed larger and larger as the game progressed, with Scotty pitching beautifully and the infield giving an excellent imitation of a stone wall. Bills and Smith showed some really brilliant defensive work, Freddy accepting eight and Jack four chances without a bobble, some of them being extremely difficult, too. In the first inning four Millers faced Scotty, due to the fact that he gave Platon a base on balls. But from that time on, with the exception of the sixth, the ol' timer set them down in order.

Well, to get back to the loving cup, the presentation was a great sight, especially if you were in the press coop, looking down. Herby Gallop was there, acting in his capacity as official unwrapper, and President Freddy McIntyre, giving the whole scene an aspect of dignity. But to Big Ed Posnecki goes the lion's share of the honors, for without him the whole party would have been a complete wash-out. Big Ed furnished the light. As stated, it was pitch dark by the time the presentation ceremony rolled around and except for the aura cast by Big Ed's glistening dome the whole proceeding might just as well have been in the darkest recesses of a coal mine as far as anybody seeing the presentation was concerned.

Well, to get back to the ball game, the least said about Dr. Clapp's decision at first on Platon the better. The little Filipino catcher cracked a slow one into Freddy Bills' territory and although Freddy made a fast play on it Platon beat the ball to Kingman's station by at least a mile, in the estimation of everybody out there except Doc. However, the Millers took it good naturedly, figuring that it was Scotty's valedictory game and that everybody was pulling for him to win.

Altogether she were a great day for Scotty and his loving cup.

Mr. A. H. Guiness, and other members of the Wayfoong staff there, are reported safe. The bank's premises were destroyed.

VISITOR KILLED

Mrs. H. E. Root, wife of a manufacturer's representative who was killed, had just returned from the United States with her son, Merritt, who had been in school in the States. No word has been received of Mr. Root or the son, but Mrs. Evelyn Manteil of San Francisco, who arrived with Mrs. Root to visit in Japan, was killed.

Dr. L. Reidhaar, a Swiss physician, was killed, but no word has been received of his wife, who lived at 59, The Bluff.

The Rev. Father C. Lebabey was Abbey of the Catholic Mission at 44, The Bluff.

No local information is available of Miss Carmen Nunes or Miss Salade, both of whom are reported killed, and their names do not appear in any Yokohama hong lists.

Mr. Hugh Horne, Commercial Attache at the Yokohama British Consulate, who was killed, is extremely well known all over the Far East, especially among business men, and was rated as one of the best informed men on trade in the Orient.

Miss Kathleen Robinson's name does not appear in the Yokohama hong lists, and no information concerning her is available in Shanghai. The Yokohama hong lists have several Robinsons, however, including Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Mrs. A. L. Robinson of the Standard Oil Company, Mr. George Robinson, Mrs. Robinson of Pearce & Co., and Mr. J. F. Robinson of Strong and Company.

Miss Henriques' name is not given in the hong lists and no local information is available. There is, however, a Miss M. R. Enriques of the Eastern Agencies in Yokohama.

GRAVE FEARS

Fears are felt concerning the safety of many others well known in Shanghai, including Shanghai residents, although a number have cabled that they are safe. Conflicting reports were received yesterday concerning Congressman Ernest R. Ackerman of New Jersey, who, with Mrs. Ackerman, was in Yokohama at the time of the earthquake. One message was received yesterday that both were killed.

No word had been received late last night concerning Captain W. L. Eisler of the U. S. Shipping Board, or Judge and Mrs. Charles Sumner Lobingier. Captain Eisler got off the President Madison at Yokohama and his baggage was brought on here by that vessel. Nothing has been heard from or of him, and Mrs. Eisler, who is now in America, has received no word.

It is doubtful that Judge and Mrs. Lobingier were in Yokohama but their continued silence has caused their many friends here to worry considerably. Messages have been sent to Harbin, Peking and Kobe in an effort to locate them.

SOME SAFE

The International Banking Corporation has received no word of their offices or staff.

The Asia Banking Corporation has received word that all the members of their staff are safe, some of them being en route to Kobe, but the offices have been demolished.

The American Express Company has received word that their staff is safe.

The Butterfield and Swire staff is also safe on board a B. & S. ship in Yokohama harbor.

The Canadian Pacific has received word that Mr. J. Rankin, the General Agent, is safe on board the Empress, but that he has no news of his staff. The offices were destroyed.

Dodwell & Company have learned that their staff is safe.

Mrs. Alice Talbot, 9 Great Western Road, and Mrs. Any Robinson, who were at first thought to have been in the shocked area, have cabled of their safety from Nagasaki.

Jardine, Matheson's have received advices that Mr. F. H. Bugbird, their Yokohama manager, and Mr. Leonard of their staff, are safe. The offices, at 11 Yamashita-cho, were destroyed.

The Admiral Oriental line has received a wireless from the President Jefferson that Mr. Don Tiling, their Yokohama agent, his family, and Mr. William Petrie, of their staff, are on board the Jefferson. Mrs. Tiuling and family, as well as several other refugees, have arrived at Kobe. Mr. L. Nietman and Mr. A. P. Fredrickson are safe in Yokohama and are proceeding to Kobe on the s.s. Westson.

MORE SAFE

The Yangtsze Insurance Association yesterday received a cable to the effect that Mr. J. W. Cain, their Yokohama manager, and Mr. W. Nicoll Buyers of their staff, were safe. The message also brought the glad news that Mr. John Prentice, a director of the Association and managing director of the Shanghai Dock Company, and Mrs. Prentice, Mrs. E. S. Wilkinson, are all safe. It is not known whether they are at Miyanoshita or Kariuzawa. Mrs. H. H. Read, wife of the Hon. Treasurer of the Shanghai Race Club is also reported safe.

Mackinnon, Mackenzie & Company, the local agents of the P. & O. and B. I. S. Navigation companies, have received word from the s.s. Dongola that their offices in Yokohama were destroyed. They have no news of the staff. The Dongola was due in Kobe yesterday with refugees.

Mr. H. P. Sharp of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank in Yokohama and Mrs. Sharp have arrived in Kobe. Their child is reported killed.

Brunner, Mond have received no word from Yokohama of Mr. W. R. Devin, their manager, or Mr. R. H. Challonier, their assistant manager. Their offices were at 74D Yamashita-cho. They are also attempting to secure information concerning Mrs. and Miss Grant who were at the Bluff Hotel, Yokohama, at the time of the earthquake. Miss Grant is the fiancee of a member of Brunner, Mond's Shanghai staff.

Fears are felt for the safety of Captain and Mrs. Swain of Yokohama. Capt. Swain was the last foreign captain to be retired by the T.K.K., and is now retired and living in Yokohama. He has many friends here.

No information has been received of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cabeldu, formerly of Shanghai, who now live at 104, The Bluff, Yokohama.

Mr. A. W. Parkhill of the Canadian Pacific received a message late last night informing him that his daughters, Doris and Alene, 81 Avenue Dubail, who were in Yokohama, are safe on board the Empress of Canada.

The Standard Oil Company has received word that all their foreign staff are accounted for except one missing and one known dead. No names are given. The Japanese staff is not accounted for. The message adds "Yokohama is completely destroyed."

Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborne, head of the American Museum of Natural History, and Mrs. Osborne, who were believed to have been in Yokohama, have landed here and are at the Astor House. They leave for Peking today where Prof. Osborne will confer with Roy Chapman Andrew, head of the Mongolian expedition of the museum. One of President Harding's last official acts was to present Prof. Osborne with the research medal.

NO INFORMATION

As far as could be learned last night no word has been received of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. dos Remedios of 13 Quinsan Garcens, Mrs. J. H. Gallop and three sons (family of Mr. J. H. Gallop of Macy's, New York), Mr. Lennie Hoyes, Mr. and Mrs. George Warn, Miss A. S. Dau, Mrs. H. Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. E. Plattner, Mrs. H. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. George Sokolsky, Mr. C. Rohsle, Mr. and Mrs. E. Busch, all of whom were believed to have been in Yokohama or Tokio hotels.

Mrs. Danforth is a close friend of Capt. and Mrs. Eisler of Shanghai.

All passengers who were through passengers on the Empress of Australia, and those passengers who intended embarking on the steamer, are safe, according to messages received yesterday. The ship's propellors were fouled during the quake, and one report received yesterday said that the bottom of the bay had raised so that there was no channel which would permit the ship to sail away. The passengers are all still on board.

Russian Editors Ask Development Of Ice-Free Port

Moscow. — The government newspaper organs are calling for the development of the Murmansk coast, called the "Window to America and England." It is the port just north and west of the White sea, which does not freeze in winter and where navigation can be kept open the year round.

It can fairly be called one of the richest regions of European Russia. About 13,000,000 acres are forests which produce the best quality of timber for building purposes.

There are only twenty sawing mills on the whole region against 1775 mills in Sweden in the same space.

The ores in this country are of first quality. For example, the iron ores of Olonetz return between five and six hundred million tons, while the possibility of the iron magnet ores go into the billions of tons. There is also a great riches of mica, feldspar, marble, granite and other minerals.

Marine Changes

The following changes in the merchant marine service took place during the week:

WOMEN BANDITS ATTACK VILLAGE; 82 MEN KILLED

Force of 700 Stages Raid On Town Of Gotou In Shantung

(China Press Correspondence)

Ichowfu, Shantung, Aug. 31.—Seven hundred bandits, among them hundreds of women, swooped down upon the town of Gotou, fifteen miles east of here last Monday about noon. When they departed, they took with them 22 of the most prominent citizens of the village, and left behind 82 dead and many wounded.

The raid, one of the most brutal on record, came after the bandit crew had been foiled in an earlier attempt to sack a neighboring village. Some weeks ago, a resident of Gotou happened to overhear that plans were being made by the bandits to sack the nearby village. He warned the village officials, with the result that when the attack was made a few nights later, the bandits were repulsed and lost several of their numbers in killed and wounded.

In some manner, however, the leaders of the bandits managed to obtain the name of the informer. They then declared that he and his town, Gotou, would suffer for his action.

Visitors to Gotou two days after the raid was staged found evidences of a terrible struggle. Many cattle had been killed and the grain, only recently harvested, was burned. The town was deserted by all but one old man, who said that he and three others had picked up 78 bodies and that four other citizens had just died of their wounds.

Not a shop in the town was open. Nearby, however, a group of thirty or forty women were found, discussing the bandit raid. They declared that a number of the bandits were women, a statement confirmed by the ferryman on a nearby river, who declared that at least 300 were women and that all were mounted. He had nine boats on the river and said that it took him about three hours to get the bandits across.

Almost daily there are new reports of banditry, reports which are confirmed by the constant stream of wounded who are arriving at the hospitals in unprecedented numbers. With only a few hundred men, the military authorities can do nothing more than protect the city, leaving the country for miles in all directions without help of any kind.

Ichowfu is literally full of refugees, and the inns within the city ways are crowded with permanent guests who are paying exorbitant rates in order to gain the potection of the city walls. Property within the walls is selling for ten times what it could have been bought for two years ago, and prices are still rising.

Chinese Declares He Was Engaged To Assassinate Korean

Man Caught With Pistol Tells Startling Tale

A sensational story of having been engaged by a Japanese to assassinate a Korean was told to the police by a man arrested in possession of a loaded pistol Tuesday.

The man was arrested at 1589 Avenue Road and two other Chinese through whose hands he is alleged to have received the pistol were taken into custody later. All three were charged at the Mixed Court yesterday.

Chief Detective Inspector Cruickshank stated to the Court that following his arrest the principal accused made a statement in which he said that he had been engaged by a Japanese to slay a Korean living in the French Concession. He was to receive $600 for the job.

On application of the police a remand of two weeks was granted, to allow further investigation.

St. George's Cinema

An excellent American photo drama based on the Russian Revolution, entitled "Bavu" will be screened at St. George's open air cinema, commencing tonight.

"Bavu" is Earl Carroll's play which was an overnight sensation on the New York stage. It is a weird story, with a mystery plot of the most intense variety with more of the thrill element than is commonly found in a cinema drama. It also presents some famous artists.

NOTICE

THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR ASSISTANCE AND REPATRIATION OF RUSSIAN REFUGEES

begs to inform the Shanghai Community that the opening of the lottery, conducted by the Committee with the authorisation of M. Wilden, Consul-General for France, for the Benefit of the Russian Refugees, will be held on Saturday, September 8th, at the Committee's Office, 14-16 Rue Chu Pao San, at 3 p.m.

The aim of the lottery is to get the necessary funds for sending from Shanghai the Russian Refugees and first of all the Cadets, to Russia or countries where they can earn their living, as only very few of them can find in this port any work, and the comparatively small Shanghai Foreign Community cannot continue to contribute the money necessary for their support.

All the money thus obtained will be used under the control of the Committee for repatriation and none of the money will be used for the maintenance of Russians at Shanghai, except certain incidental expenses to be met before the repatriation of the Cadets can be started.

The first issue of the lottery will comprise 30,000 tickets of $5 each for a total amount of $150,000, a number of them sub-divided in 10 coupons of 50 cts, each, and will be divided as follows:—

60% in prizes ($90,000)
10% to agents and shops selling tickets
60% of the remaining balance to be applied for the benefit of the Russians.
40% of the remaining balance to defray expenses, such as printing of tickets, advertising, staff, office, etc...

The drawing for the prizes will take place in the French Municipal Town-Hall under the direction of Mr. A.W. Olsen on October 9, 1923, and the prizes will be paid irrespectively of the number of tickets sold, the Committee having secured for this a first-rate guarantee.

The prizes will be as follows:

1	First Prize		$40,000
1	Second "		10,000
1	Third "		3,000
1	Fourth "		2,000
1	Fifth "		1,000
5	Sixth Prizes	$100 each	500
10	Seventh "	50 "	500
400	Eight "	10 "	4,000
2	Each approximate to the 1st prize	$200 each	400
2	" " " 2nd "	100 "	200
2	" " " 3rd "	50 "	100
2	" " " 4th "	40 "	80
2	" " " 5th "	30 "	60
2,700	For numbers having the one terminal figure similar to that of the first prize	$6 each	16,200
299	For numbers having the two terminal figures similar to those of the first prize	$10 each	2,990
598	For numbers having the two terminal figures similar to those of the 2nd and 3rd prizes	$8 each	4,784
598	For numbers having the terminal figures similar to those of the 4th and 5th prizes	$7 each	4,186
4,625	Drawn tickets	Total:	$90,000

The five first prizes will be paid by the Union Bank of China, The Bund, and the others at the Committee's office.

The Committee strongly hopes that the Community will help them in the task undertaken by buying the tickets, which will be not only an act of humanity, but will be really beneficial to ourselves.

International Committee for Assistance & Repatriation of Russian Refugees.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

September 5, 1923

Spot and forward bar silver were each up ¼d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 63⅛ cents and the London-New York cross rate declined to 452⅝.

At the opening our official quotations here were unchanged from yesterday but as our market was firm the Sterling rate was subsequently raised to 3s. 1d., the Gold Dollar rate to 69⅝ and the other rates changed accordingly.

In the early part of the morning our market was very strong indeed with speculators keen sellers. Business in Sterling was done as high as 3s. 1⅝d. for near and forward deliveries and in Gold Dollars at 71½.

There were, however, good buyers at these rates and the market eased off considerably although still remaining firm.

At the close there were sellers of Sterling at 3s. 1½d. September, 3s. 1⅝d. October and 3s. 1¼ for November-December.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 70¾ for near and forward deliveries and sellers of Yen at 69.

Banks were quoting 3s. 2¼d., 72¾ and 1305 for Sterling, Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively.

China bought silver heavily in London yesterday and the market is reported as closing steady.

There was little business done in the New York market which is also reported as steady.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce of Hankow writes as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, August 29.

Bar Silver again was very steady all week opening at 30⅞ ready and 30⅝ for forwarded delivery and on August 29 the quotation was the same, the quotation varying to the extent of 1/8 during the period under review. New York cross rate dropped from 455 to 454⅝ T.T. rate fluctuated between 3-1. 5-8 and 3-1 3-8. 4 m.s. L/C was at 3-2. 7-16 August/September 3-2. 1-4 October/December. A fair amount of business was done at these figures. Market rates Shanghai Tls. 96,9625. Local currency Dollars 70.275. Native interest 11½ percent.

Imports.—Piece Goods:—There has been some enquiry for blacks and a few sales from stock are reported. Market quiet generally. Clearances slightly better.

Yarn:—Prices are weaker and some new business in 16's has been done.

Exports.—Considerable quantities of sesamum are reported to have been purchased last week and tael values have increased in consequence. There is fair enquiry for this article although home prices are still very low. Horsebeans are inclined to an improvement at home but in a very small degree, there is however nothing doing at this end as also in wood oil the markets for this being in all directions weak in the continued absence of demand. It is too early for most other articles, but some enquiry is noticeable.

Women Of Egypt Make Demand For Education

Rome.—Mrs. Hoda Charaon Pasha, president of tre Egyptian Union for the political rights of women, and Miss Nabawia Moosa, school inspector at Alexandria, who came to Rome as Egypt's delegates at the Congress of the International Alliance of Women's Suffrage, told the correspondent of the United Press that, while the question of polygamy is for Egyptian women, one of the most important, the real, burning question of the day in Egypt, is that of women's education.

"Contrary to what is commonly believed," Miss Moosa said, "Egyptian women owe their present cultural and social inferiority to foreign domination.

"There is absolutly nothing in the Koran that prevents the emancipation of women, and under the Arabian rule, as well as in old Egypt, women had the same rights as men."

IS IT "GETTING ON YOUR NERVES?"

A Brief Health Talk To Business Men.

When you find that you no longer approach either work or pleasure with the same zest as formerly, that you rise depressed and fagged in the mornings, find meals distasteful, the duties of the day boring and vexatious; when you feel that there is "always something wrong," not only in your surroundings but also in your physical condition, it is time to bring yourself to a sudden stop, to realise that you are facing a nervous breakdown, and that here and now, without delay, a re-building process must be commenced if a worse condition of things is to be averted.

To re-build exhausted forces and revitalise over-taxed nerves there is only one right way, and that is through the blood. And to strengthen, enrich and purify the blood nothing better exists than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the Tonic with a thirty years world-wide reputation. Almost as long as you can remember.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS have been a familiar name to you; if you give them your confidence now the probability is that you will think of them with gratitude for the rest of your life.

Delay is dangerous: Why not begin your restoration to health today? Chemists everywhere sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or sent post free to your address, $1.50 per bottle, $8 for six bottles, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Do you feel nervous, tired and run down? A cup of OVOMALTINE taken regularly with or between your meals will work wonders. Try it!

OVOMALTINE is a pure food, contains no drugs. Obtainable from all dispensaries and provision stores.

EXTRACT FROM EXPERT REPORT:

"Having visited most of the cement factories of Great Britain, America and Europe, I am in a position to form an opinion of the relative merits and faults of each.....but my experiences lead me to the conclusion that 'pride of place' must unquestionably be given to the Holderbank Factory in Switzerland.....In design and construction it is a model without rival in any country." W. H. Brown, A. M. I. Mech. E., leading authority in England on cement manufacturing.

The Wisdom of the ancient Sage and the technical experiences of a modern authority on cement manufacturing have guided us to instal a set of machinery in our Lungwha Works which is an exact model of the one used by the Holderbank factory, Switzerland, and supplied by the original patentees with numerous latest improvements. The cement we are now supplying our customers is the product of that "perfect instrument."

Relief For Japan

THE unparalelled calamity which has befallen Japan has awakened the sympathy of the entire world to an extent fully commensurate with the appalling nature of the visitation. Every nation, however serious its own position, is offering help.

Shanghai as a city of all nations, noted for its generous contributions to peoples and communities in distress, is easily living up to its reputation. From the Municipal Council itself down to the smallest social organisations, aid for stricken Japan is being planned. What can be done is being done. A perusal of our various reports along this line today is heart-warming.

The Chinese committees, we are glad to see, are working as hard and contributing as freely as others.

The government itself, notwithstanding its impoverishment, is doing everything within its power. The embargo on rice has been removed and food is going forward on every vessel available. Japan will not forget.

Locally we are preparing to take care of some thousands of survivors headed this way on various ships. Our report is that a good many Japanese who have relatives here are coming and that they will be housed and fed by their own community. Similarly, the Chinese will be taken care of by their own people. As to the Americans, British, French, Italians, and so on, the problem is not great and can be easily met.

As to the general news of the day it is harsher with regard to Yokohama but more encouraging as to Tokio, where, according to two reports, not more than 10,000 perished as against the 150,000 formerly estimated. The safety of the s.s. Empress of Canada about which there were many conflicting reports is confirmed. Not only that but she has helped to save some 1,500 persons.

Facts And Lessons From Etna's Eruption

BY GARETT P. SERVISS

The eruption of Etna, the greatest of European volcanoes, in June, recalls attention to two peculiarities, one of Nature and the other of human nature. The first relates to the marvelous fertility of the ground surrounding great active volcanoes, due to the transformation into cultivable soil of the lava and associated mineral matter, brought up from the interior of the earth by the eruptions.

No soil would ever become exhausted if the mineral riches lying beneath it could be brought to the surface as rapidly as needed. In this respect the volcano serves as the deepest of deep soil ploughs. It pours out of its crevassed flanks enormous supplies of fresh material that has never felt the searching roots of plants and whose virgin riches are all at the disposal of vegetation as soon as the molten mass has become cool, rigid and subject to the disintegrating effects of the atmospheric agents.

While the uppermost parts of the volcano remain bare and barren, the mineral virtues of the extruded material are dissolved in rain water and carried down the broad flanks and across the surrounding plains to enrich all the ground that it reaches. The clouds of ashes that bury many square miles of territory prove a blessing in the end, for they, too, bring gifts of fertility from the exhaustless subterranean stores.

The consequence is that Etna and, on a smaller scale Vesuvius, are encircled with productive fields and gardens, which in many places climb high on the slopes, making a wreath of greenery and flowers around the rough, scarred head of the volcano.

Gardens, villas and villages crowd about the foot of the mountain as they never crowd elsewhere, even in a river valley and cities like Naples, near Vesuvius, and Catania and Messina, which sit on the very instep of the giant Etna, awaken the wonder of the beholder who knows how often that giant has ruthlessly destroyed them. But fertile ground has had an irresistible attraction for man ever since his first ancestor was driven from Eden with the command henceforth to make the soil give him a living.

Around the base of Etna, in a band about a mile in width, dwell 300,000 people, cultivators of the soil and its products. Orange and lemon trees abound up to a height of about 1,500 feet. Then comes a zone, rising another 1,500 feet, which is clothed with vines, amidst which flourish olives and figs. Next higher and extending to an elevation of about 6,000 feet, is a region of woods, consisting mainly of chestnuts, oaks, beeches and birches. Above that begins the huge, denuded upper body of the mountain, which has been compared to a catafalque covered with black velvet and adorned with silver trimmings.

The crater cone rises 10,863 feet above sea-level, and, standing alone, it seems, indeed, to "buttress heaven." On a clear morning its well-defined shadow can be cast from the summit stretching across the whole length of Sicily. I have beheld this myself. In the evening the lonely shadow lies across the Straits of Messina and is lost among the distant mountains of Calabria. Etna was the supreme natural wonder of the ancient world, associated with the legends of Polyphemus, Empedocles, the Oxell of the Sun, the adventures of Ulysses, and many other scenes and characters of classic mythology.

The peculiarity of human nature that I referred to as being recalled by the recent eruption, is akin to these legends of antiquity. When Catania and some of the smaller towns were threatened by the slowly approaching lava, which moves only about fifty feet an hour when it is advancing down a slope of no great steepness, they brought out the veil of St. Agatha and carried it in procession across the path of the lava, expecting that it would again, as it is believed to have done often in the past, turn the molten stream aside.

The stream did divide and leave the town of Linguaglossa safe between its forks. It was the old miracle repeated almost in the smallest detail, as it had occurred centuries ago at Catania. The sharp-eyed, clear-thinking engineer, who ventured to point out that the lava divided, as a stream of water would have done in the same place, because gravity compelled it to follow the lines of easiest descent, would have been denounced as an atheist. But I would not denounce the simple credulity of the devout people who knelt in recognition of the miracle. Denunciation should be reserved for their misleading teachers. And even they are forgivable if they know no better.

Once Overs

BY J. J. MUNDY

It seems that you are always pressed for time.

In your work-a-day time you have to hustle. In recreation periods you are keyed up to the highest pitch.

You work at pleasure till you are tired mentally and physically. How long is your human machine going to hold out with such abuse?

Why travel always in high gear? Why not drop into intermediate part of the time?

When the day's work is done, why not relax?

The harder you work yourself, the more nervous energy and muscular exertion you expend in your pleasure, the less you have for your job of making a living.

You have reached the condition where you never feel rested.

This is not the result of work at your daily job.

You receive wages for that regular job, but you continue to work at something which does not bring you in a cent nor does it improve you physically and unfits you for making a living.

Why make your play time such a severe strain?

Something To Think About

By Bruno Lessing

GOING TO EUROPE

Under a photograph of two pretty girls, printed in a newspaper, recently, appeared this line:

"Going to Europe where they will study music and economic conditions."

How any human being can possibly master music and find time to study economic conditions, is a mystery. When Paderewski studied music he devoted fourteen hours a day to it. That is one of the reasons why he became Paderewski.

If these young ladies were sincere in their intentions, they will probably return from Europe knowing very little about either music or economics. But the chances are fifty to one that they will have had a grand time.

If you want to go to Europe to have a good time and know how to go about it, you can easily have a good time. But, if you know all about your own country, you can have a good time going to California or Texas or Minnesota or Pennsylvania.

If you want to go to Europe out of sheer curiosity, you can do that, too. You will find that the Coliseum in Rome, the Alhambra in Granada, the Alps in Switzerland, the opera house in Paris and the Kremlin in Moscow look exactly like the pictures that you have always seen.

If you want to go to Europe to escape the Prohibition law—go ahead. You'll escape it, although you'll feel all the worse when you get back.

But, if you want to go to Europe to learn something, think the matter over carefully before you start.

You would not care to go to Vienna to study the wonderful hospital system that exists there, unless you were a physician. Nor would you care to study music in Dresden or Florence unless you were a musician. And, if you honestly wanted to study hospitals or music you would find that you have undertaken hard work. Hard work is the same all the world over and leaves no time for jazz or dissipation.

Most tourists, on their first trip, however, believe that they are going to Europe to see what it is like. And most of them return with a woefully erroneous conception of what it really is like.

Because you cannot see all the people of any country. You cannot talk intelligently to them if you do not know their language.

You cannot possibly acquire any clear or real knowledge of their home life, their thoughts, their feelings, their happiness and their discontent, unless you spend, at least, a year with them, become intimate with them, learn to understand them and, finally, have the intellectual ability to judge them.

No American has ever brought back from Europe more brains than he took over.

The real life in European cities is not lived in the resorts which tourists frequent. Not one in ten thousand American tourists ever scratch beneath the picture of European life which is accurately depicted in photographs.

Most travelers return with more misinformation than they had before. If you want to go to Europe to learn something, be sure, beforehand, what it is you want to learn and then study it well before starting.

Hot Weather Tempers

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"I am so irritable and cross all the time nowadays that I don't see how I'm going through the Summer without estranging all my relatives and friends," writes Isobel K.

"I am a widow with three children to support, the oldest of whom is fifteen and able to look after the house during the vacation months. But even with her at home to lighten my burdens somewhat I can hardly hold myself together and be civil either to my friends or to my office mates. I cannot look forward to any change or vacation, because I cannot afford it. I would not go away without taking the children along, and I cannot manage to give them anything more than a day's outing now and then.

"I am earning enough to keep up a decent little home and dress fairly well, but I cannot have any of the things I crave. I am thirty-five and can't make myself feel middle-aged or contented with my lot. Can you suggest any way for me to get along without an explosion such as might cost me my job, make my children miserable or cost me my last friend?

"Perhaps this doesn't seem serious to you, but it is driving me half crazy. I hold on to myself and hold on until I think I am going to scream. I want to be amiable, but I am so worn and hot and tired I don't know how to fight my nerves."

It is no easy task for any of us to fight our nerves, especially when hot weather makes our belief in them especially clamorous and strident.

Yet which of us is willing to be at the mercy of "nerves," which of us wants to be the victim of conditions? None of us wishes to yield to the things we ought to handle and conquer, and yet most of us think we must do just this.

I believe that every one of us is entitled to control over himself and the beliefs he entertains. Now when you find an intruding belief in your thought, why should you not refuse to entertain it precisely as you would decline to have as a guest in your home some one you did not like?

But what Isobel K. and most of you do is sweep the hearth and garnish the room and welcome the annoying, morbid, terrifying thoughts we say we do not want to have around.

In the very beginning of the Bible we are told that God gave man dominion over all the earth. And dominion means rightful control. If we have a right to dominion—and Bible authority is important enough to accept, then that dominion extends to ourselves and our beliefs.

Suppose Isobels—and all of you who are "doomed" to stay in the hot city and try to come cranky—you invite a few beliefs to visit you. Start by thinking that it is good mental exercise to try to keep yourself friendly and pleasant and peaceful and poised this Summer. Recognise that you do not know what glorious surprises the days and weeks may bring. Expect good things to happen. Try to find enjoyment in all that comes your way—in work well done, in words kindly said, in growing knowledge of your dominion over self. Your amiability will bring you other gifts—but in itself you will find it the finest gift of all.

By the end of the Summer you will have grown so much in self-control that you will find your months well spent in building a disposition rather than in—learning to swim!

NEW GEMS by O. HENRY

A Treasure-Trove of Humor From His Newly Discovered Newspaper Writings

BREACH OF CONTRACT

"WELL," said the business manager of the paper as he dropped in the managing editor's sanctum, "one of our best advertisers came in mad and ordered his ad out."

"Same old story," said the editor with a sigh.

"Who was it?"

"Big firm that has all the trade for miles around."

"What was the complaint?"

"Said the contract called for space next to reading matter and we had it this week on the page by the president's message."

BILL NYE

(This is the only published expression that O'Henry ever made of his ideals of American humor. As a tribute, it could apply word for word with equal force to O'Henry himself.—Ed.)

Bill Nye, who recently laid down his pen for all time, was a unique figure in the field of humor. His best work probably more nearly represented American humor than that of any other writer. Mr. Nye had a sense of the ludicrous that was keen and judicious. His humor was peculiarly American in that it depended upon sharp and unexpected contrasts, and the bringing of opposites into unlooked for comparison for its effect. Again, he had the true essence of kindliness, without which humor is stripped of its greatest component part.

Bill Nye's jokes ever had a sting. They played like summer lightning around the horizon of life, illuminating and spreading bright, if transitory pictures upon the sky, but they were as harmless as the smile of a child. The brain of the man conceived the swift darts that he threw, but his great manly heart broke off their points.

He knew human nature as a scholar knows his book, and the knowledge did not embitter him. He saw all the goodness in frailty, and his clear eyes penetrated the frailty of goodness.

His was the child's heart, the scholar's knowledge and the philosopher's view of life. He might have won laurels in other fields for he was a careful reasoner, and a close observer, but he showed his greatness in putting aside cold fruitless discussions that have wearied the world long ago, and set himself the task of arousing bubbling laughter instead of consuming doubt.

The world has been better for him and when that can be said of a man, the tears that drop upon his grave are more potent than the loud huzzas that follow the requiem of the greatest conqueror or the most successful statesman.

The kindliest thoughts and the sincerest prayers follow the great humanitarian—for such he was—into the great beyond, and such solace as the hearty condolement of a million people can bring to the bereaved loved ones of Bill Nye, are theirs.

The Girl Who Wears Eye-Glasses

In these days of rimless glasses and pince-nez, the wearing of these important aids to health is not nearly so much to be dreaded as when metal rims and side pieces conspired to make them as conspicuous as possible. Nevertheless, the girl who wears them constantly should look on them as a feature just as much as her nose or mouth; and should certainly take them into account when planning her clothes.

THE HAT NOT TO CHOOSE

I once saw a young woman with pincenez who wore a Dolly Varden hat tied under the chin with powder blue ribbons at the ends of which dangled pink rosebuds. Her appearance did not look "right."

THE IDEAL MUSHROOM SHAPE

The shape of the hat is important to the wearers of eyeglasses. The small turban, though commendable for its neatness, throws them into greater prominence, the very large hat is apt to be too picturesque. The ideal is the mushroom shape, as this softens the effect of the glass.

BOBBED HAIR INCONGRUOUS

Bobbed hair looks rather incongrous with [illegible], and neither the elaborate coiffure nor the ultra modern severely drawn back style is suitable. The simply and naturally dressed head looks best, and the owner of straight hair who contrives to put a big, not too pronounced, wave into it will find her appearance much improved.

The girl who wears glasses should use make-up with the greatest reserve.

A big rich lather from a big new stick

Because its wonderful lather quickly softens the toughest beard and soothes the tenderestskin, Williams' Shaving Stick has always been the leading shaving stick of the world.

Williams' Doublecap SHAVING STICK

is the last word in shaving economy and convenience.

Follow it point by point:

1. A threaded metal ring at the middle of the stick.

2. A metal cap is screwed to each side of the ring. One cap serves as a holder while the other end of the stick is in use.

3. The cap gives a big hold like the handle of a shaving brush. When one end of the soap has been used up, use the other.

4. When all but a thin wafer of soap is used up get a Re-Load Stick and press the wafer on one end of it. No scrap of waste. The handsome, non-corrosive metal box will last indefinitely.

The soap in Williams' Doublecap and Williams' Holder Top Sticks is precisely the same in quality.

Made by the Makers of the famous Williams' Talc Powders,—perfectly borated, medicinal and toilet.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

PROSPERITY TO BE SLOGAN OF REPUBLICANS

Party In Power Will "Point With Pride' To Achievements

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Prosperity and its continuance is to be the subject for Republican windjammers in next year's campaign, it was revealed at a conference of Republican leaders of the Middle West with Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican National Committee.

"Of course, the farmer hasn't much prosperity just now with wheat way down," said Chairman Adams. "We would like to help him, but there seems to be no way."

When the Chairman called the conference with Middle West leaders there were present: E. H. Williams, Western Regional Director of Republican Clubs; Dr. E. B. Clements, Republican State Chairman of Missouri; Horace Ellis, Director of Western Headquarters, which will be in Chicago in January; Fred Schortemeier, Secretary of the Indiana Republican State Central Committee; Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio, Vice Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee; Jacob Babler, Republican National Committeeman of Missouri; Joseph Kealing, National Committeeman of Indiana, and others.

Radical Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota did not appear to have a representative.

"Are you looking for a third party movement?" Chairman Adams was asked.

"We don't expect anything of the kind" was his answer. "Everybody in the country is prosperous, so it is nothing but Coolidge and prosperity."

Germany Regaining West Africa Trade

Figures recently compiled show that Germany is rapidly getting hold of the shipping interests of West Africa which she lost during the war. Departures of vessels from ports in Europe bound for West Africa per annum are: Britain 127, Germany 86, France 78, Holland 36, Portugal 24, Belgium 17, Spain 12 and Italy 12. Hamburg has now become the leading port in Europe for West African business. Further useful facts in this direction are revealed by M. P. Bachmann in the "Journal de la Marine Marchande." There are three British companies in this trade, Elder, Dempster & Co., African Steamship Company and the British and African Steam Navigation Company. Five German lines run to this part of Africa—the Deutscher Afrika Dieust, Woermann Line, Deutsche Ost Afrika Line, Africa Dieust and Hamburg Bremer Afrika Line. There are four French companies, three Dutch and one company each for Belgium, Spain, Italy and Portugal. Hamburg's position at the top of the list is accounted for by the fact that 159 steamers leave that port in the year for West Africa. The other ports show the following figures: Rotterdam 98, Antwerp 92, Liverpool 91, Bordeaux 67, Lisbon 62, South-

Says West Indies Are Becoming Americanised

London, Aug. 27.—Americanisation of the West Indies was the subject of some discussion in the House of Lords recently. Viscount Burnham asked the Government whether the West Indian colonies would specially be represented at the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference, and whether the question of maritime and telegraphic communication with that part of the Empire would be considered. Practically the whole of the news which appeared in West Indian papers, he said, was supplied from America and was necessarily American colored.

Viscount Long in supporting Burnham said that there was real danger in the policy of Americanisation being carried on for a long time without competition.

The Duke of Devonshire, Colonial Secretary, replying, said the close proximity of the United State and possibly many attractions which the West Indies possessed for the people in the United States, at this moment had led no doubt to considerable American influence being established in those colonies, but he was confident that the loyalty of those colonies and the close association that had existed between them and this country for so long were not going to be broken by any commercial or industrial influence of that kind.

GERMANY HOLDS SECOND PLACE IN SHIP BUILDING

Great Britain And Ireland Lead All Nations In Tonnage

London, Aug. 21.—With the exception of Germany, the world's shipbuilding during the last three months has declined to new low levels, according to a report issued by Lloyd's Register of Shipping for the quarter ended June 30.

Shipyards of all nations on June 30 had an aggregate of 2,250,000 gross tons of work, approximately 300,000 tons less than March 30 and 400,000 tons less than six months ago.

The United States, which at the end of March was building 34,000 more tons of merchant ships than at the first of the year, is shown as building 8,000 tons less on the date of the report.

Of the 316,000 tons decrease for all countries combined in the quarter a total of 154,000 tons was in the shipyards of Great Britain and Ireland, so that the British decrease was almost as great as that of all the other nations together.

The report states that Germany now holds second place among shipbuilding countries. She is constructing more than twice as much new tonnage as her nearest competitor, France, and two and a half times as much as the United States. Great Britain and Ireland lead with 1,328,000 tons. Other countries in their order are: Germany, 352,400; France, 170,900; Italy, 141,500; United States, 133, 700; Holland, 100,000; Japan, 72,800; British Dominions, 45,000.

Compared with a year ago, says Lloyd's, the British shipyards are building 581,000 tons less; yards of the United States, 17,000 tons less, and those of all other countries, 93,000 less. Compared with ship construction immediately prior to the war, United States yards are building about 15,000 tons less and British yards about 400,000 tons less.
